

Cooper Hotels, a leading hotel development and management company, announced the addition of Michael Goforth as director of construction to the Cooper Hotels Memphis headquarters team. Previously, he was senior vice president for design and construction at Development Service Group in Memphis since 2007. With a degree in architectural engineering and a general contractor license, he has more than 30 years in hospitality design and construction.

Goforth Provided By Cooper Hotels